A striking scarf can be made by combing two contrasting colors. Wind the first and second directions with one color, wind the third way and weave with the second color. This takes one ounce of each color but there is sufficient material left to make a small bag to match. When making this type of square it is advisable to change when half the required number of squares is completed and reverse the use of colors. Winding the first two directions takes a bit less yarn than winding the third and weaving.

DIRECTIONS FOR SEWING SQUARES TOGETHER

Hold two squares together matching the corners and loops exactly. With yarn sew over and over into each loop drawing the thread rather tightly. When joining squares of different colors, either color may be used for sewing. Bury the ends by threading them back into the seam for an inch. Press flat on both sides with a damp cloth and a medium hot iron. Sew squares into strips and strips together to make desired article.

To make perfect squares, straighten out the square by pushing the yarn back against the pins on all sides before removing from frame.

In the directions that have been given in this booklet various types of yarn have been specified. However, practically any type of yarn can be used on the Weave-It. Germantown has been suggested more than any other type as it produces a good, full-bodied square when finished, whereas lighter weight yarns naturally will produce a much looser weave or texture, however, this is desirable in certain types of work.
