N U M B E R T W O PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

These little coats are warm and practical. They are pleated in back to allow plenty of freedom of arms and shoulders and are designed full enough to wear sweaters or jackets underneath. They can be made easily and inexpensively and are just the thing for the little boy or girl to wear to school or at play this fall.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Weave-It material can be used in the following of any wearing apparel patterns so that any particular pattern that suits the individual fancy can be used for Weave-It garments. When using Weave-It material with cut patterns these simple directions can be followed. Assemble the squares to a size that will be slightly larger than the paper pattern. Mark the line of the pattern on the material with pins and run a double line of stitching on the sewing machine along the line of cut of the paper pattern. Then cut the material just outside the stitching. When assembling these cut pieces of fabric (which also can be done on the machine) it is advisable to single crochet on the wrong side of the seam. If desired button holes may be put into the Weave-It material by stitching a double row and cutting between the stitches for the button hole and finishing if desired either with a button hole stitch or single crochet. Many interesting effects are obtained by varying the type of weave. The new Weave-It Weaves Booklet (15c.) shows a variety of different patterns that can be used.

Here is the solution to what you can do with odds and ends of yarn. This afghan is made entirely of odds and ends of yarn of every color and kind. The result is an extremely colorful and attractive afghan. It is just the thing to use as a pull-over on cool fall evenings.

PATCHWORK AFGHAN

TWO-PIECE SUIT

This suit can be one of your most becoming outfits. The collarless, long-sleeved jacket and the plain skirt make it possible to wear a wide variety of colorful blouses or sweaters with it. Either jacket or skirt can be worn separately.

A charm based on simplicity makes this dress an excellent addition to anyone's fall wardrobe. The kick pleats give the skirt graceful lines and freedom for active sports. A number of different smart and colorful collar and cuff sets can be worn with it to get the effect desired.

Equipment & Materials Needed for CARDIGAN SWEATER on page 4

- 1 Weave-It
- 1 Jr. Weave-It
- 5 oz. Shetland
- 6 Buttons
- No. 3 needles
- Size 14-16

Weave eighty regular squares and sixteen Junior squares. If a light weight yarn is used it should be doubled when making the Junior squares.

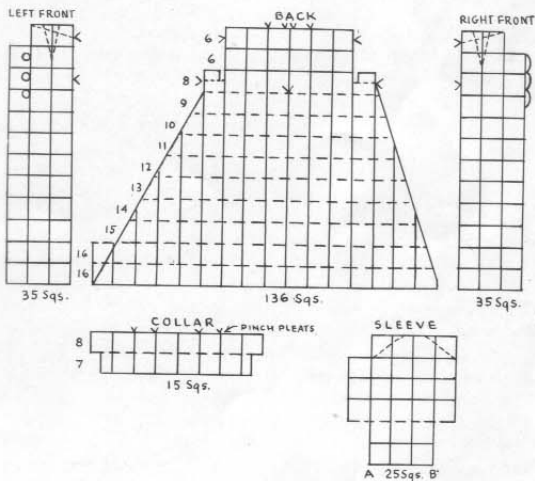

Assemble as shown in diagram leaving openings between the first and second, third and fourth, fifth and sixth, and seventh and eighth Junior squares on one side of front to form button holes. With No. 3 needles pick up eighty stitches at bottom of back and K 2 P 2 for three and one-half inches. Pick up forty-two stitches at bottom of each front K 2 P 2 for three and one-half inches. Pick up forty-two stitches at cuff of sleeve K 2 P 2 for three inches. Crochet one row single crochet down the center fronts and around neck. Press, sew under arms and sew on buttons. A gusset may be put under the arm as indicated. Button and button holes or snap fasteners may be used to close knitted band in front.

Equipment & Materials Needed for SWAGGER COAT on page 5

- 1 Weave-It
- 21 Balls Glengary
- 3 Buttons
- Size 14-16

Sew squares together and assemble as shown in the diagrams. Note that the fullness of the back is obtained by adding a square each row, and easing it into the preceding row. Press parts well. Stitch darts in the fronts at the shoulders as shown by the dotted lines. Stitch fronts to back at the shoulders with a sloping seam starting 1 inch down on the armhole and ending even at the neck. Sew sides together leaving 2½ squares open for the armhole. Assemble sleeves, gathering the 5 squares into the 3 squares of the lower arm. Fold over the lower squares to make a smaller cuff and sew a sloping seam up to the gathering. Sew the rest of seam. Fit sleeve into armhole placing the underarm square to the half square of the coat leaving the other half of the square loose. Pin the center of the top of the sleeve to the shoulder seam. Pin the sides sloping them down to the underarm square. This will leave extending beyond the seam. Baste and stitch twice around the armhole leaving ¼ inch between stitchings. Trim off points and either bind or crochet around the seam. Sew ½ inch tuck just inside the shoulder seam extending it down for 1½ squares front and back. Fold over to the center the outer edges of the center squares in the back making a box pleat. Stitch this down on both sides for 3 squares. Press pleat down to bottom of the coat. Assemble collar easing in the 8 squares to the 7 squares. Sew the edge of the inside (7 squares) to the neck starting 1 inch from the edge and ending 1 inch from the edge. Fold over collar and sew in pinch pleats as indicated. Sew down edges. Sew on buttons and crochet loops. Press well.

Royal Blue—60 skeins

Grey—1 skein

Amber—1 skein

Scarlet—1 skein

Foam—1 skein

180 squares are required for the entire afghan. To work the squares together, the scalloped edges of the squares are laid edge over edge and slip stitched together on the right side with the No. 5 Bone Crochet Hook.

The yarn used to crochet is worked in stripes in the following order.

The stripes lengthwise of the work are Scarlet and Foam alternating, and crosswise are Grey and Amber alternating.

The trend today is toward modernism and simplicity. Square and rectangular shapes play an important part in modern design. Dresses, coats, sweaters and all other items made on the Weave-It have this modernism and simplicity because the fundamental idea of the Weave-It is weaving squares and sewing them together.

It is fascinating and easy to weave squares and sew them together to make well-fitting, charmingly simple and modern garments. Careful selection of color combinations and clever combining of squares result in unusually attractive coats, dresses, sweaters, blouses, auto-ropes, afghans, baby clothes, table linen and bed spreads. Any of the items shown in this book can be made quickly, easily and inexpensively on a Weave-It.

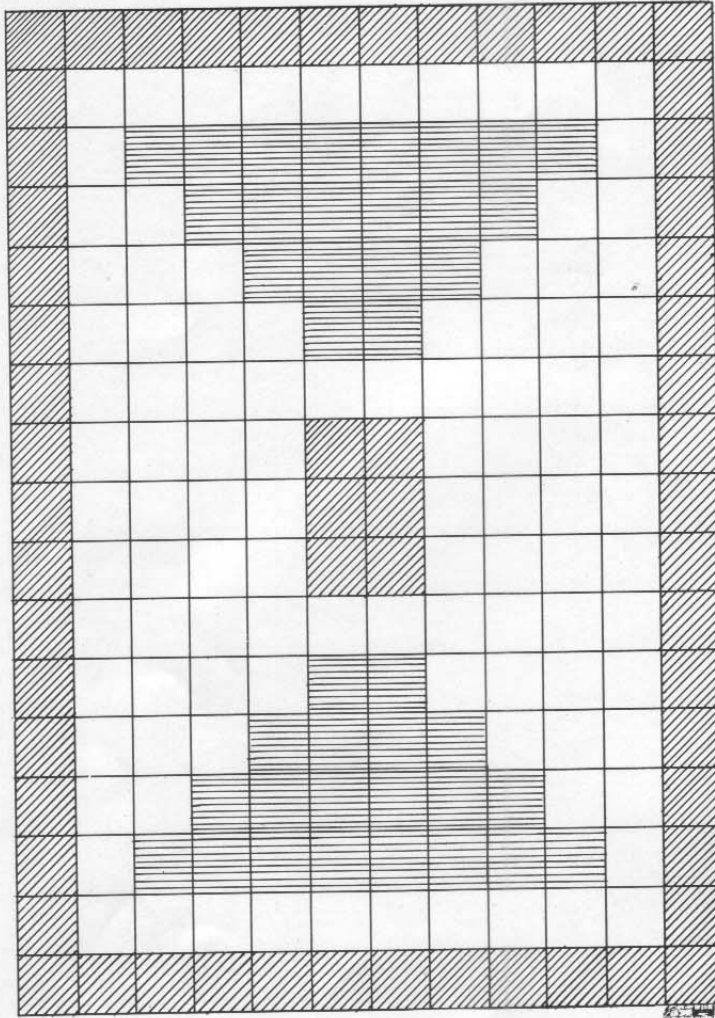

Designed by the Scotch Wool Shop, Evanston, Illinois, and tailored by a professional tailor, this town suit is one of the smartest Weave-It garments. The giant buttons, patch pockets and three-quarter length, fitted coat, which may be worn separately if desired, make it distinctly different and serviceable.

A F G H A N

Weave 60 blue squares, 38 yellow squares and 104 white squares on a regular Weave-It and sew them together as shown in the diagram.

This fall coat with its stand-up collar, semi-fitted sleeves, and graceful fullness is ideal for cool fall afternoons and evenings. The combination of semi-fitted, semi-swagger design give it a casual stylishness that is becoming to almost anyone.

SWAGGER COAT

SLIP-ON SWEATER

Both rows of buttons on this sweater unbutton down the shoulder. This not only makes it easy to put on but protects the neckline of the sweater. The clever arrangement of little squares up the front, which may be woven in blending or contrasting colors, give it the ultra smart, modern touch so necessary today.

Equipment & Materials Needed for TWO-PIECE SUIT on page 10

- 1 Weave-It
- 1 Jr. Weave-It
- 13 oz. Crinkly yarn
- 2 or 6 Buttons
- Size 14-16

Weave ninety-eight regular squares and twenty-eight Junior squares. Assemble squares as shown in diagram. Join the three rows of six squares in the back to the five squares by forming an inverted pleat down the middle. Leave a small opening for a button hole between the third and fourth Junior square from the bottom on each front. Sew eight Junior squares together, single crochet around this belt and sew on across the back where the five and six squares meet. Sew on collar and under arms leaving one-half square open at cuff of sleeve. Single crochet around the collar, down both center front openings and around the bottom. Press. Turn up one-half square on sleeves to form a cuff. Close cuff with snaps. Button may be sewn on cuff if desired. The front closing is made by two linked buttons in button holes.

Skirt: Weave one hundred nineteen squares. Sew squares into strips and assemble as shown in the diagram, leaving open two squares at the top on one side. Ease in the added squares of each strip, putting more fullness at the back. Press well. Turn up the bottom strip and hem or crochet around the bottom or leave plain. Stitch twilled tape around the top of the skirt and down the open side to form a placket, easing in all fullness at the back. Finish with hooks and snaps.

For larger sizes: Measure with a strip of pressed squares the widest part of the hips. Increase one square every other row for lower part of skirt and decrease one square every row for upper part of skirt. Darts may be taken in the back and stitched down.

Equipment & Materials Needed for GIRL'S COAT on page 16

- 1 Weave-It
- 8 2-oz. skeins of Scotch Sports Yarn
- Size 8

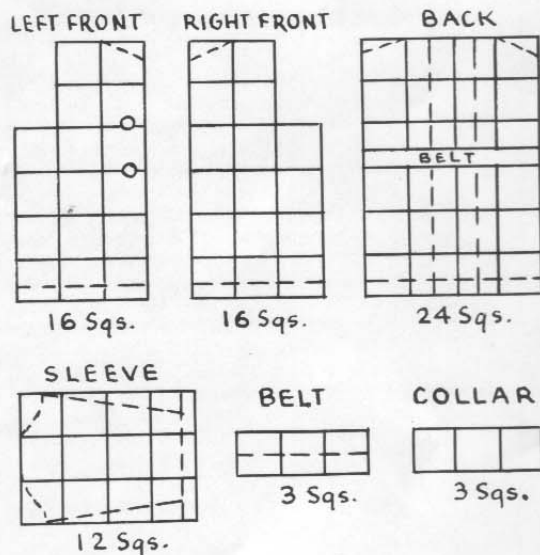

Weave one hundred thirteen squares. Assemble in blocks as shown. Upper Back: Lap the center six squares over the side, three squares having the edge of the center squares lap one inch at the top and two inches at the bottom, making a sloping seam. Stitch down having the stitching one-half inch from edge. Sew lower back to upper back putting in pleats as shown by darts. Sew sides. Sew fronts to back with a sloping seam starting one inch down on the armhole and ending even at beginning of the second square. Pin sleeve into armhole having the edge of the coat lie flat on the sleeve. Pin middle of center square of sleeve to the shoulder seam and the corners A and B to the corners A and B of the under arm square. Baste and stitch. Stitch the sleeve again close to the other stitching. This will stop the raveling. Trim off points and single crochet around the armhole or bind the edges. Stitch the sleeve together in a sloping line as indicated. Press seam open. Turn up cuffs and sew. Crochet around button holes. Pin center of collar to center of back and ends of the collar to the center of the front square. Sew together putting all fullness to center back. Press well with a damp cloth.

Equipment & Materials Needed for BOY'S COAT on page 17

- 1 Weave-It
- 6 2-oz. skeins of Scotch Sports Yarn
- Size 4

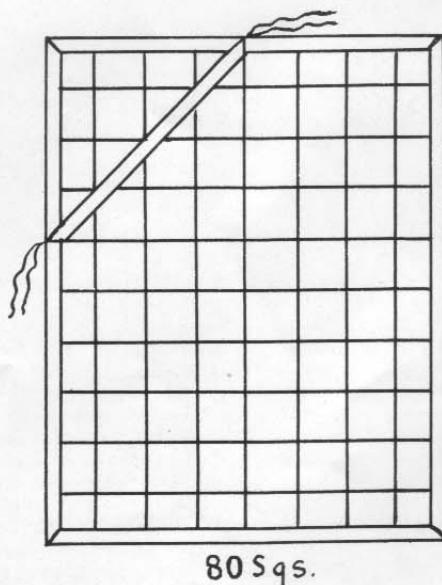

Weave eighty-six squares. Assemble in blocks as shown. Sew fronts to back at shoulder with a sloping seam beginning one inch down on the armhole, and ending even at the beginning of second square. Sew sides. Pin in sleeve placing the coat edge flat on the sleeve. Pin the center of the middle square to the shoulder seam. Pin down the sides slanting the sleeve so that the side squares are pinned in almost diagonally as shown by the dotted line in the diagram. Stitch in. Stitch edges of sleeves sloping the seam in towards the bottom also as shown. Press sleeve seam open. Stitch again around inside of sleeve one-quarter inch from other stitching to insure against raveling. Trim off points. Single crochet around edges. Turn up cuffs. Baste in box pleat in center back as shown. Stitch down for one and one-half squares on both edges. Press pleat into bottom of coat. Fold belt double and sew on flat across back two and one-half squares down. Crochet around button holes (spaces left between squares when sewing together). Turn up hem and sew down. Crochet around edges. Press well with a damp cloth.

Equipment & Materials Needed for COMBINATION BABY BUNTING and BLANKET on page 21

- 1 Weave-It
- 7 oz. Germantown
- 4 yds. 2" ribbon
- 2 yds. 1" ribbon
- 3 yds. 1/2" ribbon

Weave eighty regular squares. Assemble as shown in the diagram. Bind all edges with 2" satin ribbon. Sew 1" ribbon on the wrong side of 1 corner thirteen and one-half inches each way from the corner. Sew another piece of 1" ribbon diagonally across the corner from ends of other 1" ribbon. Press and run 1/2" ribbon under the 1" ribbon for gathering of ties. Tack the sliding ribbon three inches from each corner.

Equipment & Materials Needed for SLIP-ON SWEATER on page 6

- 1 Weave-It
- 1 Jr. Weave-It
- 4 oz. Shetland
- 1/2 oz. Shetland Contrast
- No. 3 Needles
- 24 Small Buttons
- Size 14-16

Weave forty-three regular squares and thirty Junior squares of main color and nine Junior squares contrasting color. Assemble as shown in diagram leaving neck and shoulders open from point A to B. With No. 3 needles pick up eighty stitches at bottom of back and K 2 P 2 for three inches. Repeat this at bottom of front. Pick up sixty-four stitches on each sleeve K 2 P 2 for one and one-half inches to form a cuff. Single crochet across back shoulders and neck continuing around to front, then crochet three, chain two, crochet three until twelve button loops are made. Single crochet across front of neck to opposite shoulder and start twelve more button loops. Press, sew under arms and sew twelve buttons on each side of shoulder. A gusset may be inserted under the arms if desired.

Equipment & Materials Needed for SPORT DRESS on page 9

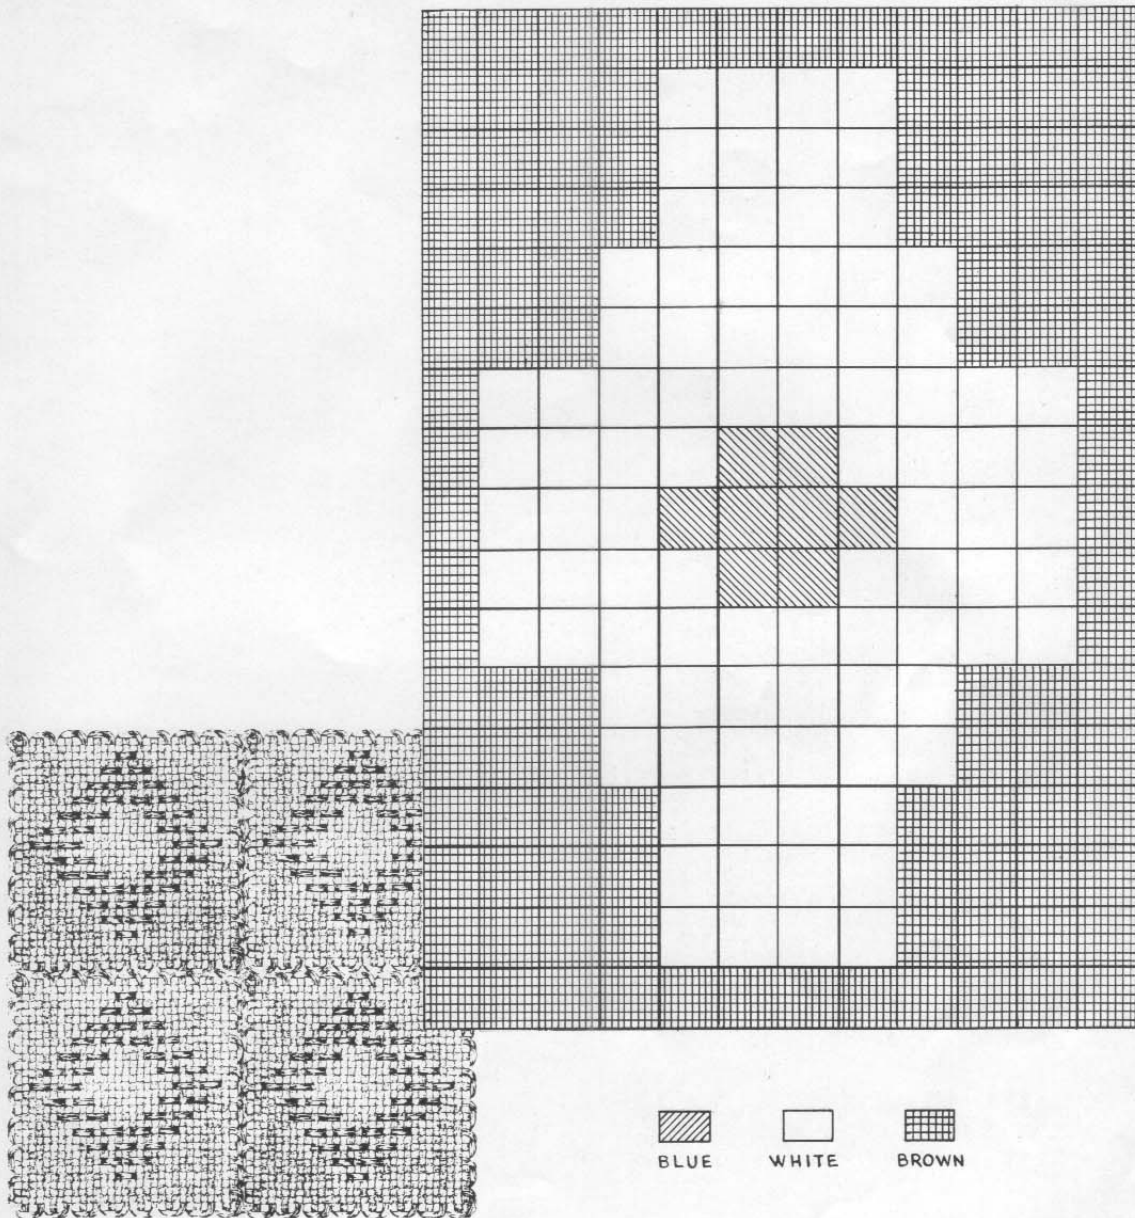

- 1 Weave-It
- 1 Jr. Weave-It
- 15 oz. Crinkle Yarn
- 1 oz. Angora
- Size 16

Weave two hundred thirty-one squares on regular size Weave-It and nineteen squares on the Junior Weave-It.

Blouse: Requires one hundred fifteen squares. Assemble in blocks as shown, leaving open the two top center squares. Stitch the back to the front with a slanting seam starting one inch down on the armhole and ending even one inch in on the center squares. Sew sides. Assemble sleeves making a right and an opposite left. Sew sleeve sides together matching the points and corners. Do not sew the A corner and sides until after the sleeve is fitted. Pin the sleeve to the blouse, the top square being pinned diagonally to the blouse and in back of the shoulder seam. The sleeve should have the long side (3 squares) at the back. Continue pinning around. This will fit a small arm. For larger arm, pin as before leaving open the space under the arm and fill in with an extra square. If the sleeve is pinned when on the person, it will be much easier. Sew in sleeve and stitch close to sewing before cutting off point. Crochet this edge. The lower part of the sleeve may be made smaller by lapping the squares. Turn points up. Single crochet three rows around the cuffs and six rows around neck. Sew small squares together and crochet once around. Fold over belt having seam on center of inside. Crochet around lower edge of blouse two rows. Press well.

Skirt: Requires one hundred sixteen squares. Assemble as shown. Sew open edges together making box pleats of the extra squares in the lower part. Fold over top and run elastic through. Single crochet around bottom to obtain desired length. Press well.

COMBINATION BABY BUNTING AND BLANKET

This combination blanket and bunting is a most valuable addition to baby's wardrobe. Use it as a carriage or crib blanket or use it as a hood. The two sets of ribbon work the hood. The ribbon going diagonally across the corner goes around the baby's neck and the other one pulls the triangle down snugly over the baby's head. Both ribbons tie under the baby's chin.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS

DIRECTIONS

FOR SEWING SQUARES TOGETHER

Hold two squares together matching the squares and loops exactly. With yarn sew over and over into each loop (that is, two stitches to each pair of loops) drawing the thread rather tightly. When joining squares of different colors either color may be used for sewing the squares together. Bury the ends of the yarn by weaving them back into the seam for about an inch. Press the resulting Weave-It material on both sides with a damp cloth and a medium hot iron. The best method of assembly has been found to be the sewing of squares in strips and then the strips together to produce whatever article you have selected. Perfect squares are absolutely essential to obtain the most satisfying results in any type of garment or article. To produce perfect squares follow the directions as supplied with your Weave-It and after finishing a square and before removing it from the frame, push the strands of yarn back against the pins and straighten out each line of yarn. This can be conveniently done with the needle or the tines of a silver fork. If it is desired to conceal the seam as much as possible in assembly of the Weave-It squares, we suggest that you follow the above directions for sewing squares together and use a varied colored yarn or two-toned yarn that is uneven in twist. If it is desirable in a particular pattern to accentuate the squares, they can be fagoted together rather than using the method previously described, or crocheted together with a contrasting colored yarn. Squares can be sewn together on a machine and the results secured are most satisfactory.

To Enlarge or Reduce Patterns: Sew together ten or twelve squares in a strip, press and measure bust, waist and hips and compare with pattern. Add or reduce squares as needed.
